PRODUCTS: WATER HEATERS

HEAT PUMPS

Discover eco-friendly heating solutions with Bemaric Building Solutions. Our innovative heat pumps harness renewable energy from the environment, efficiently converting hot air into energy that heats your water. Our heatpumps offer sustainable heating while reducing carbon footprint. Join us in embracing renewable energy for a greener future.

WHAT IS AN AIR SOURCE HEAT PUMP?

An air source heat pump is a system that absorbs renewable heat from the environment and converts it into energy to heat water. Air is the best energy storage as it can absorb solar energy, heat emitted by organisms and heat from burning fossil fuels. The air source heat pump transfers energy from the surrounding air to water, thereby creating an eco-friendly energy recycling system.

The European Union classifies air energy as a renewable energy source just like wind and solar energy. The air source heat pumps have been widely promoted by the EU to achieve the goals of energy savings, reduced carbon emissions and increased use of renewable energy.

UNPARALLELED ENERGY EFFICIENCY COMES FROM THE AIR

The renewable heat pump technology used by Daisy converts heat from the air into energy for domestic hot water, guaranteeing up to 75% energy saving compared to traditional electric storage water heaters. The modulating power provided by the Inverter Technology and the electronic expansion valve installed in the refrigerant circuit allows to reach a temperature of up to 70°C with the most efficient COP in the market, with short heating-up time and low noise. For added efficiency, Daisy can be conveniently coupled with other heat generators (solar or boiler) and photovoltaic panels. Moreover, models boast energy class A+.
